PLANS FOR NEW FRISCO DEPOT

NEW STRUCTURE WILL BE CREDIT TO CITY—HANDSOME AND COMMODIOUS.

Oklahoma City, Sept. 19, 1912.

Senator R. M. Roddie, Ada, Oklahoma.

Dear Senator:—I am enclosing you location plat, front location and floor plan for proposed depot for your city. You can see from general appearance that this will make a very artistic and handsome depot. This depot and facilities, when completed, will cost approximately $25,000.

We desire you to take this up with the mayor and citizens of Ada and see if the location and general plan of structure meets their approval. This depot will be all modern as far as heating and lighting are concerned, and is different in design and structure from any other in the state. This depot will be constructed of concrete and steel throughout.

Please attend to this at once and return plans to the Commission and will approve the same and push the construction of this depot to a final analysis.

Yours to please,

A. P. WATSON, Commissioner.

The plans referred to show one of the best buildings of the kind in Oklahoma. On the side next to the railroad will be a concrete walk 16x475 feet, giving ample room for everything. It will be steam heated and every detail strictly up-to-date. All who have seen it expressed their complete satisfaction and Mr. Roddie has so notified the commission. The depot will be a credit to any town, and the company is probably building with an eye to the future development of the city.

REBELS FIRE ON AMERICAN MARINES

Washington, Sept. 20.—Rear Admiral Southerland, commanding the American expedition in Nicaragua, with Major McKelvey and two companies of marines and a detachment bluejackets, yesterday joined the battalion of marines under Major Butler. Butler's command was fired upon and halted by rebels in Masaya last Sunday while attempting to escort a train over the National railway from Managua to Granada, to relieve a famine which threatened a French school for girls at the latter place.

Admiral Southerland is expected to use whatever force may be necessary to open up the Nicaraguan Railway and reach Granada. There are a number of American girls in the French institution. When last heard from Major Butler, after retiring before the rebel fire, had warned General Zeledon, the insurrectionist leader, that his object was to open the railroad peacefully, but would advance with his marines if another attempt was made stop the train.

A conference had been arranged for, and it is supposed Major Butler decided to await the arrival of reinforcements. Now that Admiral Southerland is on the scene with additional men, an immediate advance is expected.

LINEBAUGH WILL ADDRESS THE CITIZES OF ADA.

According to a notice issued from state headquarters, Hon. D. H. Linebaugh, of Atoka, will address the citizens of Ada on the evening of Wednesday, September 25. Mr. Linebaugh is one of the most aggressive and popular campaigners in the party and while at Ada will probably be able to infuse some life into the Wilson club.

Now is a good time to demonstrate the truth of the doctrine of the resurrection of the dead by reorganizing the chamber of commerce and getting busy once more.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 20.—Twenty thousand gallons of Kentucky burgeo and other refreshments formed a feature of the grand statewide Democratic rally and barbecue here yesterday when Speaker Champ Clark, Senator Tom P. Gore of Oklahoma, Senator John W. Kern of Indiana, Senator-Elect Ollie James of Kentucky and other prominent Democrats delivered speeches. Special trains brought crowds from all parts of the state who participated in the parade and afterwards in the barbecue at Woodland Park, where upwards of 100,000 people were assembled.

The crowds were strung out into twenty or more knots, each knot claiming a special speaker.

JORDAN IN SHADOW OF DEATH CHAIR

Boston, Sept. 20.—Chester S. Jordan, who killed his wife four years ago this month, has been taken from the jail in East Cambridge to the State Prison in Charlestown, there to await death in the electric chair in accordance with the sentence of the court. According to this sentence, the noted prisoner, whose case has attracted country-wide attention, will be put to death early in the coming week.

Jordan is a brother-in-law of Jesse Livermore, the young Wall street plunger, who is reported to have made several million dollars in cotton speculation some years ago. For four years Livermore has spent freely of his immense fortune in a vain effort to save his relative from the death chair. The best lawyers in Massachusetts were retained as counsel and the case was carried to the Supreme Court of the United States. The only result was to obtain for the prisoner a short respite, while his case was awaiting argument before the highest tribunal in the land.

Officials of the East Cambridge jail, where Jordan has been confined for four years, declare him to be one of the most remarkable prisoners with which they have ever met. From the hour that he was arrested, while seated on a trunk in which was hidden the headless body of his slain wife, he has maintained perfect composure. The long trial, the sentence of death, even the news that the governor declined to interfere and by so doing had wiped away his last lingering hope for life, have failed to produce the slightest ruffle in the steady calmness of his appearance and demeanor. During the years of his confinement in jail the prisoner spent his days largely in studying the market reports, in which he displayed the same quiet interest as might a broker in his office.

Jordan's crime was of an unusually gruesome nature. Of giant build and handsome face, the young man had sought and found employment as an actor, after leaving his boyhood home in Indianapolis. Early in his stage career he met and married Mrs. Honora Eddy. Their married life of the couple proved tempestuous. Mrs. Jordan, according to her husband, took to drinking and associating with other men. This led to jealous quarrels that ended in the death of his wife.

The murder was committed in the home of the couple at Somerville. In the heat of a quarrel, according to Jordan's own statements, he struck his wife and the blow caused her death. The husband went out and bought a butcher's knife and a hack saw, with which he dimembered the body. He severed his wife's head; also the legs. Then he tried to destroy all traces of them by burning them in the furnace of his home. He put the rest of the body in a trunk and came to Boston with the ghastly burden, stopping at a boarding house preliminary to taking a steamer for New York. It was his intention to get rid of what remained of his wife by throwing the headless torso into the water while the boat was en route to New York.

Up to this point all had gone well with the young murderer. But when he arrived at the wharf he found that the New York steamer had gone. He then hired a cabman to drive him back to the boarding house. His nervousness aroused the suspicion of the cab driver and after the latter had carried the trunk to Jordan's room, he mentioned the matter to an officer. The police suspected that the trunk might contain stolen goods, as up to this time there was no suspicion that a murder had been committed. When the officers entered the room and examined the trunk against Jordan's protests they were dumbfounded by their ghastly discovery. When taken to the station the young man calmly told the entire story, and an examination of the apartment at Somerville bore out the horror of the crime to which he confessed.

During the trial Jordan listened to the revolting details of the murder with the utmost nonchalance. After he had been convicted and the sentence of death had been passed upon him, one of the jurors went insane. This was four days later. Counsel for Jordan appealed the case on the ground that the juror had been insane during the trial. The Massachusetts court denied the contention and the appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of the United States. The latter tribunal upheld the decision of the Massachusetts court and Jordan was sentenced for the second time to die in the electric chair.

Rome's Day to Celebrate.

Rome, Sept. 20.—The 42nd anniversary of the entry of the Italian troops into Rome and the fall of the temporary power of the papacy was the occasion today for the customary patriotic demonstration and holiday observance. During the day immense crowds visited the historic Porta Pia, through which the Italian troops made their entrance into the capital. The several monuments of Victor Emanuel, Garibaldi, Cavour, Mazzini and other notable figures in the Italian struggle for independence were beautifully decorated with flowers.

All out-of-town physicians are solicited to come in and affiliate.

PROGRESS OF LOVE

MURDER TRIAL

Antlers, Okla., Sept. 20.—The jury in the Love-Rucker murder case was completed at noon yesterday, after exhausting the entire panel and issuing a special venire for 13 new jurors. The case is being tried before Judge McKeown, of Ada. Following is a list of the jurors: J. W. Milam, W. K. Latham, E. J. Lindsey, J. P. Sheridan, R. O. Dobbins, W. F. Hobbs, Lewis Barcombe, Claud McCarty, J. L. Tims, Edwards, Brown and Gates Carlisle. The first nine men are farmers and the last three are merchants.

The state put on nine witnesses and rested. The testimony of the undertaker and physicians was that Rucker had eleven holes in his body. The defense is emotional insanity, but the state introduced testimony to show that Dr. Love said after being arrested and when hearing that Rucker was dead, that he was glad of it and that he had done what he intended to do.

The testimony of the defendant's witnesses is more sensational.

D. A. Stovall, an attorney at Hugo, testified that he met Dr. Rucker and Mrs. Love on a Santa Fe train and traveling together in Oklahoma City a short time before the tragedy.

A photograph of Dr. Rucker and Mrs. Love was introduced and Witness Stovall identified them.

W. G. Mills, superintendent of Aiken hospital, of Paris, stated that Dr. Love had brought Mrs. Love to the hospital to have an operation performed and while she was yet a patient at the hospital, Dr. Rucker was coming there to see her.

A. H. Robinson, a hack driver, testified that he conveyed Dr. Rucker and Mrs. Love from the hospital to the Owen room.

Miss Bertha Powers, a nurse at the hospital, testified that Dr. Rucker was in the room at the hospital with Mrs. Love one night from 11 p. m. till 1 a. m.

These witnesses did not know Dr. Rucker personally, but they identified him from his photograph.

YOM KIPPUR—THE DAY

OF ATONEMENT
For the information of the general public, and more especially for the use of daily newspapers, the Central Conference of American Rabbis has widely distributed the following information concerning the Day of Atonement:

The Day of Atonement, or Yom Kippur, is the most sacred of all Jewish holidays. It occurs this year on Saturday, Sept. 21st, beginning, as do all Jewish holidays, on the evening of the day previous and closing at sundown on that day. In the Jewish calendar it occurs on the 10th of the 7th month, Tishri, and is the culmination of ten days of solemn meditation and reflection, that began with the New Year. It is ordained in Leviticus XVI: 29-34, and is scripturally known as a "Sabbath of Solemn Rest," i. e., of complete cessation from all ordinary avocations and occupations. This includes even the satisfying wants of the body. The observant Jew abstains completely from all food and drink during the continuance of the day.

This fast is the interpretation of the passage "ye shall afflict your souls on this day," and is in keeping with the spirit of the day, i. e., the subordination of the physical to the spiritual side of our nature. It is a day devoted to prayer and penitence, a day whereon, through confession and contrition, the soul aims to be at one with God, to seek His mercy and earn His pardon. The ancient service of the day, with its elaborate ritual and imposing priestly sacrifice and confessional, has disappeared before the truer spiritual significance, that makes it appeal to each individual heart and to each single soul. The service lays stress upon the Divine grace and mercy that are freely held out to the sin-laden breast through penitence and contrition.

The great lesson of the day is that a contrite heart and an humble spirit are God's most acceptable sacrifice and that the fountain of His freely flowing forgiveness is exhaustless.

The Dancer.
"His little slanting eyes followed the butterfly movements of Lan-Tin here and there, the free toss of her little head and the graceful abandon of her arms as she flung them over her head, and again brought them down with a sweeping bend to the very ground. Lan-Tin forgot the mandarin and all his regal magnificence. She was playing a pretty little game of make-believe. She was the wind blowing through the plum tree. Tossing and twirling, bending low as did the drooping branches, waving slowly, rushing fiercely like a tiny whirlwind. With flushed cheeks and glowing eyes she was the spirit of the wind."
"Then a funny thing happened. From outside the windows that opened on the perfumed Chinese night came the sound of loud hand-clapping and deep, strange voice shouting 'Brava!' She dropped down on a cushion, no longer a wind fairy, but a little wilted flower."—From "The Tale of Little Lan-Tin," by Flo Hingler.

Deputy Sheriff G. T. Harrell was in from Steedman today with an alleged violator of the prohibitory law. He has started out to clean out the bootlegger in that part of the county, and from all accounts is making things rather interesting.

DIED.

Clovis, the 10-months' old son of Henry Maxwell, passed away Tuesday morning, September 17, after a brief illness from bowel trouble. The body was taken to Egypt cemetery and buried by the side of its mother, who had preceded it to a brighter world. —Francis Wigwam.

First to Use Chloroform.

Chloroform as an anaesthetic was first used on the 30th of September, 1846, by Dr. W. T. G. Morton, a dentist, of Boston, in a case of tooth extraction, and thereafter by him in many difficult operations. The news of the discovery reached England in December, 1846, and British dentists immediately began to use it. Sir James Simpson, a Scotch physician (1811-1870) was the first to use it in hospital practice and this he did in 1847. His discovery was considered independent of that by the Boston dentist and in 1866 he was knighted. He had a public funeral when he died and a statue of him in bronze stands in Edinburgh.

See Us Before You Buy Your Coal.

Remember that we only handle the highest grades of coal and pick from the best mines in a district. As the ice business draws to a close, and on account of warm and cool days we wish to keep our ice delivery good and therefore we will sell coal at about cost for a while so that we can keep our men busy. Remember our prices are never any higher for our high grades of coal than others charge for any kind of coal. We load our wagons with a fork which insures coal free from slack, we can use the slack in our boilers, and get some use of it, but for stoves it's worthless, so why not buy the best while it cost you no more and may cost you less. Our leader this year will be the same as we have handled for three years which is No. 6 Dewar. We will also have the highest grade of McAlester in stock. We run our own tests on coal, we don't take the other fellows' word for it. All coal that comes to our boiler room is tested for heat units, we give our customers the benefit of this as well as the benefit of our long experience as coal users, we claim to know coal when we see it, in fact we are experts in this line, so please see us before placing your orders and avoid any chance in a disappointment in your winter coal. Yours truly, ADA ICE AND COLD STORAGE CO.

How Democrats Kept Faith.

(By Hon. Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of U. S. Representatives.)
New York, Sept. 20.—The six principal things which we promised in 1910 to do if we carried the country were: To liberalize the rules of the House; to economize; to submit a constitutional amendment for the election of United States Senators by popular vote; pass a bill compelling the publication of campaign expenses before the election as well as after the election; to admit the states of New Mexico and Arizona as two separate states; to reduce the tariff.

We have kept all these pledges. In addition, we passed the best labor law ever placed on the statute books. We passed the canal bill, one of the most important pieces of legislation in the history of the country. We passed bills to make the lives of our sailors more comfortable and so induce young men to take to the sea as in the old days. We passed multitudes of other laws of a remedial nature.

NOTES AND NEWS FROM THE WORLD OF LABOR

Theatre ushers in Boston have taken steps to organize a union.

Greater New York's thirteen gas companies employ 40,000 persons.

In Arabia the pay of cooks and house servants runs from $8.30 to $13.50 a month.

Munich has women street cleaners. There are women hod carriers in Hungary.

The International Spinners' union has expended more than $150,000 in strike and lockout benefits the past year.

There are 3,000 clerks in the British postal service on salaries which begin at $325 and rise by $25 annual additions to a maximum of $550.

The general price for laundering collars in Russia is 5 cents a piece. The wages paid to women are from $4 to $8 per month, with room and board included.

In the year 1910 there were more than 35,000 deaths from industrial accidents, while more than 5,000 more were injured during the same time.

The Central Trades and Labor Council of St. Louis will make an effort to have the union label placed on coffins used in St. Louis. A new factory will comply with all the wishes of the unions.

Declaring that their employers fail to pay them a living wage and that their tips are not enough to eke out such, Des Moines waiters, waitresses and cooks have organized a local union of the American Federation of Labor.

In Massachusetts there are 370,775 women wage earners, one-fourth the entire female population of the commonwealth. Out of this number 91,000 are married women, three-fourths of whom are mothers with families averaging four children.

Industrially Pennsylvania occupies the foremost rank in the Union. Of a total population of about 8,000,000, more than 1,000,000 men, women and children are wage earners, earning their livelihood in the coal mines, shops, mills and factories.

In Prussian coal mines the usual underground shift, not counting descent and ascent, is eight hours, but in Upper Silesia it is 9.7 for hewers and ramblers and 10.1 for other workmen; the hours range from 9.8 in State mines to 11.9 at Aix-la-Chapelle.

The proposal of the English delegates to the International Miners' Congress meeting at Amsterdam, in favor of a uniform working policy of not more than five days per week has been adopted. The next congress will decide on the date when the new regime shall go into effect.

The city of Pinor del Rio, Cuba, is building fifty homes for workmen similar to those built near Havana. The homes are allotted by a drawing and each lucky drawer will have a stated time to pay for the home in installments and then he will get a deed to the land and house.

According to advance bulletins on manufactures just issued by the census bureau, in 1909, the United States had 268,491 manufacturing establishments which gave employment during the year to an average of 7,677,578 persons, of whom 6,615,046 were wage earners. These manufacturing establishments paid $4,365,613,000 in salaries and wages, and turned out products to the value of $20,672,052,000, to produce which materials costing $12,141,791 were consumed.

HIS SYMPATHIES WITH ELK

Somewhat Natural, Since Animal Rescued Engineer From Extremely Awkward Position.

A curious story of adventure comes from Montana. While a freight train was lying over at a small mountain station, the engineer borrowed a shotgun and started out for a short hunt. Finding nothing, he was returning to the train when a cow came running at him, and before he realized his danger, she tossed him in the air.

Getting to his feet as quickly as possible, he dodged behind a tree, and then, to his dismay, found that the gun barrel was bent so as to be useless. The next ten minutes were very lively ones, while the cow chased the engineer round and round the tree. Just when he was about to succumb from fatigue, an angry snort was heard, and a big elk appeared upon the scene, head down and prepared for a fight.

So was the cow, and in another moment the two animals dashed at each other. The engineer watched the combat for a few minutes, until prudence suggested that he should make a retreat as soon as he could. He regained the train in safety, and never knew the outcome of the battle, but he hopes the elk was the victor.

Not Really Naval Stores.

The term of turpentine, tar, pitch and rosin as naval stores is a misnomer. It originated many years ago, when tar and pitch first were used to coat the bottoms of vessels to make them watertight and to cover the rigging of ships to preserve it from the action of the weather. All ships carried always a supply of tar among their stores, and hence the original of the term "naval stores." It was used only by ship builders and ship owners and others who had to do directly with shipping, and was a nautical term only. Then, when the products of the gum of the long-leaf pine came into general commercial importance, the term was accepted as a fitting one for all articles of commerce manufactured from that substance, and is maintained to this day, although the uses that created it have little to do with the interests of the trade.

Origin of Diamonds.

Von Bolton thinks that diamonds were formed in nature by the action of metal vapors, such as iron or magnesium, on carbon dioxide. He has succeeded in making microscopic diamonds by the action of mercury vapor on carbon.

Paoli Battle Anniversary.

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 20.—On the monument grounds near Malvern the customary exercises were held this afternoon in commemoration of the conflict which historians of the American Revolution have termed the "Massacre of Paoli." Today marked the 135th anniversary of the event. On the night of Sept. 20, 1777, the troops of Gen. Anthony Wayne, while retreating from the battle of Brandywine, were surprised by the British general, afterwards known as "Flintless" Gray. The British general forbade his men to fire a shot, and to make sure of it, took away their flints, whence came his nickname "Flintless." The night was intensely dark, and the Hessians fell upon the Americans, without a moment's warning, and bayoneted them. Only the genius of General Wayne prevented the destruction of the entire body of troops.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.
